GHD-1977. No shadow for our Mpls. GH, but the official one in Puxatawney saw his, so one of them will be right. Relatively warm out. Jogged home for first time in 77- and got caught by a TV camera and appeared on the evening news.

March 5. You may all show a little respect from now on, and call me "Grampa." April Hodge Greenberg made her debut at 6 1/2 pounds about 2:30 this afternoon.

March 19. St. Louis. Saw April, and she's real. An active alimentary canal with excellent voice-box at one end, complete with the requisite number of fingers and toes. I hold here in the same "football" carry I used to hold her mother - and none of us quite believe it.

March 23. On TV for the second time in 2 months - also second time in 56+ years. A shot of me and my brussels sprouts taken for a neighborhood documentary last fall.

March 25. Was elected to National Academy of Engineering - an honor I had never anticipated. I guess I've still got 'em fooled.
